The world has always equated success with personal achievement. In the sight of a holy and sovereign God, however, man's achievements are unworthy of eternal merit; struggle though he may, man cannot attain God's acceptance and approval. Thus, God provided the perfect sacrifice—His own Son—to redeem man.

As Christians, we realize then that our boast must not be of ourselves and our achievements, but of Christ and His finished work at Calvary. Because God accepts us through Christ, we should always strive to be growing in the quality of our lives so that we reflect honor and glory upon God's sinless Son.

Therefore, mediocrity in the Christian's life is unacceptable. If we are to reveal to a lost and dying world the God who does all things well, our lives must be committed to . . .

Consecrating one's life in order to effectively minister for Christ is the heritage that has passed from the University's founder to the School of Religion. This, in turn, is the message being lived by graduates proclaiming God's Word in churches planted throughout the world.

Applying pastoral experience with educational expertise, the School of Religion faculty teach not only fundamental theology but also practical standards of godly living. Such valuable instruction profits all students, but especially those choosing majors in Bible, Church Ministries, Pastoral Studies, or Christian Missions.

In order to honor a person or organization taking a strong biblical stand, the Jones family presents the Bob Jones Memorial Award for the Defense of the Scripture.

SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS

The School of Fine Arts gives students the opportunity to produce films, music and speech recitals, dramatic productions, and art exhibits for the University family to enjoy.

Three undergraduate degrees, including 16 majors, along with two graduate degrees offer a variety of fields for any student to choose from.

The School's four divisions of Art, Music, Speech, and Cinema train their students to excel in their professions. Faculty and staff lead students through their participation in the University's opera, drama, and cinema productions, such as the world-renowned 1978 film, Sheffey, Silver Medallion prize winner at the International Film and TV Festival of New York.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

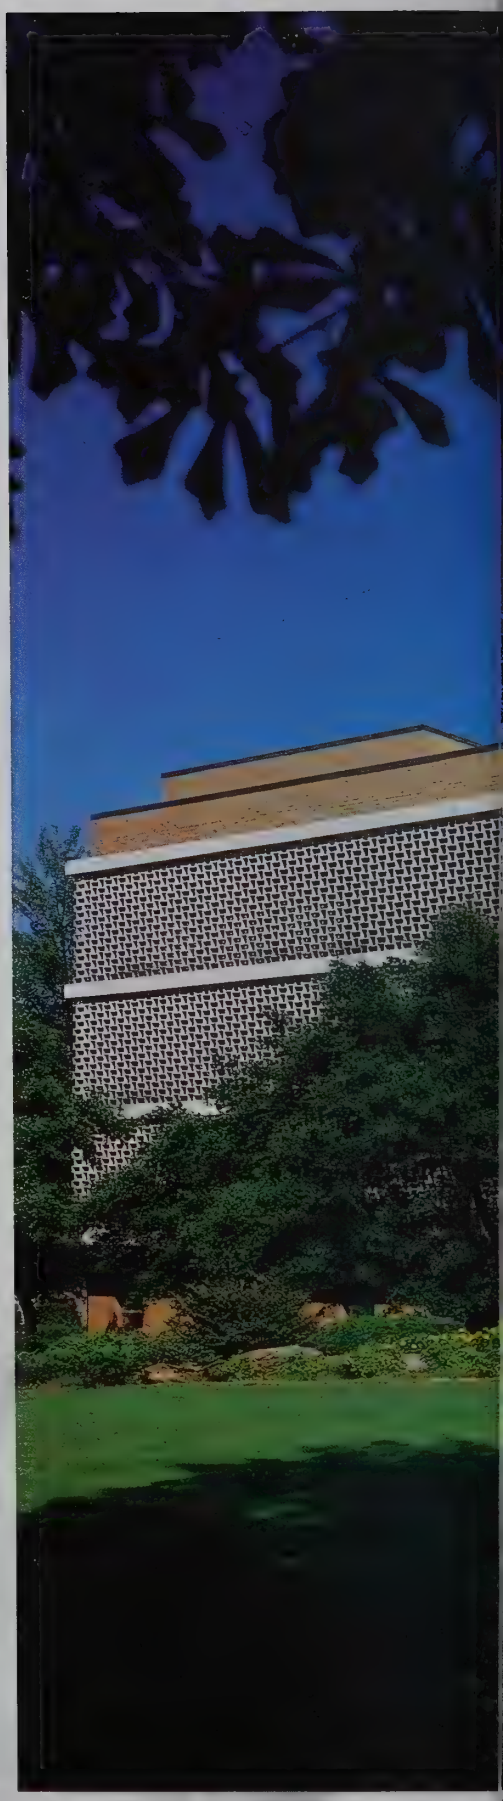
Interior Decorating, Creative Writing, and Criminal Justice—these are just three lesser-known majors of the 33 offered under these seven divisions of the College of Arts and Science: English Language and Literature, Foreign Language and Literature, Natural Science, Mathematical Science, Applied Science, Nursing, and Social Science.

The College of Arts and Science gives its students a Christian foundation in professional and practical curriculum.

One of the many extra academic activities—the Scholastic Bowl—is available to the student self-disciplined in learning.



BARGE MEMORIAL

DEDICATION

To the lost world, Christians live a paradoxical life: yielding obediently to God's commands but not to man's expectations. But we know that true spirituality is revealed by what one lives before all men and that man is able to judge only those manifestations of a Christian's relationship with his matchless Saviour. Therefore, the Christian should strive to attain an excellence not only before his God but also before the world. This biblical standard of excellence by which we all should live is demonstrated by Dr. Guenter E. Salter.

Dr. Salter has distinguished himself as a scholar, professor, dean and spokesman. His bachelor and master of arts degrees from Wayne State University were succeeded by another master of arts degree in 1968 and a doctor of philosophy degree in 1969 from Vanderbilt University. Students discover his broad knowledge displayed from the lectern in undergraduate and graduate education, philosophy, and German courses. Since 1971 the University has witnessed his keen leadership as Dean of the College of Arts and Science. Evidences of his noted expertise include submissions to American and German professional journals and addresses made at academic conventions and seminars.

Cultivating others' gifts while refining one's own talents to reach the world is the true nature of yieldedness to God; therefore, we, the 1988 Vintage staff, dedicate this book to . . .

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Because the world continues to deter the direct spread of the gospel, the witness of Christians in business is a priceless resource. Testifying to associates and clients in worldwide offices is an evangelistic opportunity unique to the professional world. Furthermore, local churches profit from layworkers investing their lives and talents to support the Lord's work.

Incorporated into the School of Business are those attributes one needs to be successful in the competitive business environment. Majors in Accounting, Management, Business and Commercial Aviation, and Office Administration lead into a diverse portfolio of career opportunities. Extra-curricular clubs sponsored by the University Business Association develop leadership skills useful in all organizational positions.

At commencement the Wall Street Journal Award is presented to the graduating business student with the highest academic average.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

A correct Christian philosophy toward instruction and discipline is essential for today's teachers; the School of Education's two undergraduate divisions and its one graduate division provide a solid foundation for the necessary training of an elementary, secondary, or college teacher.

Education majors gain experience by completing one semester of student teaching in local public or Christian schools and are immediately certified in 25 states upon graduation.

The American Legion Award Citation is given yearly to two students who display qualities of scholarship and leadership toward their government and society.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED STUDIES

The School of Applied Studies equips young men and women with technical skills to help them serve effectively in a particular ministry. Vocational training is enhanced with hands-on experience in many of the University workshops; religious training is directed from an experienced and devoted staff.

Similar in structure to a junior college, the School of Applied Studies offers associates of applied arts and applied sciences degrees. The wide range of practical majors in the school's two divisions entails programs lasting from one to three years.

The Division of Christian Service and the Division of Business, Trades, and Technology present commencement awards to their respective outstanding senior students.

JONES FAMILY

The Jones family selflessly contribute their time and energies to serve the Lord by ministering at the University.

The Chancellor and the President continue in evangelical and administrative services for the Lord around the world while maintaining the high standards of separation established by Bob Jones, Sr. over sixty years ago.

ADMINISTRATION

As the University enters its sixth decade of service, the Administration continues to maintain an integral role. The leadership of the godly men and women provides the direction for the academic schools and the stewardship of the financial matters of the University. More importantly, though, living consistently by the Word of God is the characteristic feature of their leadership. Challenged by the Administration's devotion to their Lord and their calling, students develop the Christian character that Dr. Bob Jones, Sr., founded this school upon.

STUDENT LIFE

The University provides for its students an environment which develops an academic, social, and spiritual excellence that is rare among colleges today. Academic excellence results from diverse and intense classroom training. Selecting from seventy majors, students may balance the curriculum in a particular field with elective courses. Assignments given from a scholarly faculty stimulate learning and develop self-discipline.

Twenty-six men's and twenty-six women's societies, the backbone of student involvement, encourage members to participate in athletics, skits, and outings. The University provides additional extra-curricular activities for involvement through the Classic Players, Opera Association, orchestra, and other instrumental and vocal choirs. Artist Series concerts, vespers, student body productions, and informal activities provide many dating opportunities.

Besides prayer beginning each class, daily chapel messages, and evening room prayer meetings, students are challenged by the lives of a godly administration, faculty, and staff. Students also have opportunities to lead or support campus organizations and extension ministries.

These aspects of student life help make Bob Jones University students well-rounded Christians.

Founder's Day

Three generations of people assembled in chapel on October 30 to honor Dr. Bob Jones, Sr. The program's theme, "Builder of Bridges," symbolized the bridge that Dr. Bob built to bring men to salvation through Christ and the university that he built for the protection of young people.

Faculty and staff who lived during his active ministry told of their applications of many of his chapel sayings, such as "It is a sin to do less than your best" and "Finish the job."

A banquet in honor of Dr. Bob, Sr., fittingly concluded the special day remembering the accomplishment of a man obedient to God.

Thanksgiving

For most students, Thanksgiving is tradition: a juicy mound of turkey, potatoes dripping with gravy, stuffing, pumpkin pie. Nippy fall breezes whipping orange and gold leaves through the air.

Thanksgiving at the University means many of these traditions as well as new ones.

Thanksgiving week is filled with activities such as the Turkey Bowl with nearly 7,000 spectators in attendance, Thanksgiving dinner served at the Dining Common, four perfomances of Shakespeare's tragedy Hamlet, and the performance of Handel's Messiah by the University's choirs and orchestra.

A praise service Thursday morning reminds the students and visitors to thank God for the country He has given us and the countless blessings He bestows on us daily.

Christmas

The spirit of Christmas is never lacking at Bob Jones University. For months, students have been eagerly crossing off the days until vacation.

Carols ring over the outside loud-speakers. At night the campus is illuminated by thousands of tiny lights on evergreens, dormitories, and walkways; even the front fountains glow red and green.

But the holiday message is not forgotten in the midst of decorating. The University ministers to townspeople by delivering food baskets to needy families, by organizing Christmas extension programs, and by performing a special vespers to explain the true purpose of Christmas.

In the annual Soulwinning Conference the last week of school, Dr. Ron Comfort reinforced the necessity to take witnessing opportunities over the holidays to re-tell the news that Christ was born—and died—so that we might have eternal life.

Bible Conference

Springtime declares nature's breaking forth from its winter protection, spreading its roots, and beginning an amazing process of revealing its true beauty. In March the campus evidences this colorful and energetic atmosphere with blossoming tulip arrangements and pansy borders and with the sprouting of buds on tree branches.

But more than nature's wonder, the week of Bible Conference signifies a time of spiritual reawakening and growing. Lives are transformed by the forceful but compassionate preaching from invited pastors and evangelists known for their uncompromising stand in fundamentalism. The message of each service is also proclaimed in special music ministered by faculty and students. In addition to the worship services, gatherings of family and friends between services or of alumni at class reunions keep the campus filled with activity.

Convocation

Graduation is a time of anticipation, of having family and friends visit, wearing caps and gowns, and, of course, receiving diplomas. After hearing the University's Chancellor and President challenge them to serve Christ unwaveringly, graduates march out of the amphitorium, ending their formal undergraduate or graduate education. However, this end entails each individual commencing a life independent of those institutions entrusted with the responsibility for developing his spiritual, academic, and social character, but becoming dependent upon that character and knowledge acquired both here and at home. Based on the successes of their forerunners, this year's class of 600 can expect to continue in the tradition of utilizing this preparation to glorify the Lord.

Work Scholarship

The University employs approximately 1750 of its students each semester through the work scholarship program. Some students take jobs according to their talents, such as piano accompanying, lifeguarding, paper grading, day care, or hospital care. Large organizations on campus, such as the Dining Common, custodial services, and the maintenance department, each employ hundreds of students.

On-campus jobs provide work opportunities for students with financial needs, but perhaps the most important benefits of a work scholarship are a greater appreciation for the value of a college education and for the importance of self-discipline to efficiently budget time.

Mission Teams

University faculty sponsors and students with varying majors comprise the mission teams travelling nationally and internationally to minister the Gospel. Summer months are spent in places such as Canada, the Western United States, Hawaii, or Germany.

The impact of these teams is felt not only by those who come into contact with them but also by those who participate in them. Many people have come to know Christ through the witnessing of team members; others have been encouraged from the help given by the team. Having extra workers strengthens the work of pastors and missionaries. The team members return with a greater understanding of the needs of the world and with a testimony of God's working in their lives.

Timothy Students

To alleviate the increased burdens placed on foreign pastors by the diminishing of missionary outreaches, Dr. Bob Jones III established the Timothy program. Christian young men demonstrating outstanding leadership potential are selected to train for the ministry at Bob Jones University and then return to their native countries. This year's Timothy students from Antigua, Brazil, Haiti, Korea, and South Africa anticipate returning to plant churches, start Bible institutes, or devote themselves to other full-time Christian services.

W.O.R.L.D. Fund

Workers Of Righteousness Lending Dollars—that's the purpose of the University's outreach program for foreign students needing aid to attend college to prepare for Christian service.

The W.O.R.L.D. Fund program grants tuition and room-and-board for any foreign national committed to serving God in his home country following his graduation. The University's 43 students from 28 foreign countries who are currently benefitting from this program carry a full work-scholarship on campus and study in the field of their choice.

Extensions

Voluntary extension programs provide opportunity for students to actively minister to others.

Students spread the "good news" to people of all ages by carrying the gospel to nursing homes, hospitals, jails, and detention centers. Street-preaching, child evangelism, church work, and ministries to mentally- and physically-handicapped people are other extension possibilities.

Extension greatly benefits the students who participate, by teaching them responsibility and by burdening them for others' souls. Extension is one of the University's most important practical Christian training programs.

Unusual Films

Access: Your Future, Unusual Films' newest release, uses a computer and special effects to convince three high school students that BJU is the school for them. After giving the computer information about their interests in majors, athletics, social opportunities, and other extra-curricular activities, the students see that BJU offers them the best education. This film has been used both at the university and in churches and schools to show prospective students the quality spiritual and academic training offered by BJU.

University Press

Over the last ten years, the Press has developed into one of the most extensive and fruitful ministries that the Lord has granted to the University. Although the Press publishes some non-educational material, its main goal is to produce a quality curriculum with a biblical philosophy for Christian schools and home schools.

Secondary school authors write textbooks for Bible, history, math, science, speech, and English. Elementary school authors focus on producing material for elementary and home-school teachers, emphasizing reading, writing, grammar, and spelling.

Through the Lord's blessing of finances and technology in the field of publishing, the work of men and women at the Press has greatly blessed Christian schools and parents with Bob Jones University curriculum.

Cyrano de Bergerac

In May the Classic Players performed Edmond Rostand's Cyrano de Bergerac, under the direction of Mrs. Jones III.

Dr. Bob Jones III played Cyrano, the large-nosed hero of the story, who secretly loves Roxane but nobly writes romantic verses for Christian to give to her. Sword fights and seventeenth-century costumes enhanced this popular performance.

Hamlet

Over the Thanksgiving holidays, the Classic Players performed one of Shakespeare's most provocative tragedies, Hamlet, which had not been played at the University for 10 years. Directed by Dale Savidge, this production focused on Hamlet's lengthy struggle between reason and passion in his quest to avenge his father's murder. On an elaborately designed set depicting Denmark's royal castle, a series of bitter plots and counterplots results in destructive justice.

Guest Artists

The University Artist Series schedule included a Romeros concert in April. While each family member—Celedonio, the father; and Celin, Pepe, and Angel, his sons—maintains an international acclaim for his own mastery of the classical guitar, "The Royal Family of the Guitar" collectively entertained the audience with a musical style uniquely their own. This reputation has allowed them to play at many of the world's leading performance halls in the United States and in Europe for over twenty years.

In February the New York Vocal Arts Ensemble delighted students and guest ticket holders with a concert of exquisite harmony ranging from folksongs to the classics. Enviable achievements—such as placing first in the prestigious Geneva International Music Competition—mark this ensemble's illustrious history, and extensive travelling on three continents, including a special tour in Soviet Bloc countries, has enhanced their recognition. As a result, since this group's formation thirteen years ago, these artists have become one of the most sought after vocal quartets in the world.

"A Night in Vienna" was the title given to the thrilling program performed by the world-famous Mantovani Orchestra conducted by Kenneth Alwyn on September 23. Their repertoire included pieces by Mozart, Schumann, and Strauss, who was Mantovani's favorite.

The audience particularly enjoyed the orchestra's performance of "Edelweiss" and the many love ballads sung by guest artists Kimberley Parsons and Richard Kennedy, two highly-acclaimed vocalists from North Carolina debuting with the Mantovani Orchestra.

Vespers

ves•pers (ves′pərz) n. pl. [fr. L. vespera evening.] a. The time of day set aside for prayer, in the late afternoon or evening. b. In some churches, universities, and colleges, a late afternoon or evening service, largely musical.

The second meaning of vespers describes the University's biweekly Sunday afternoon programs of music and speech. Vespers provide opportunities for the campus choirs, instrumental groups, and music and speech students to use their talents for the Lord's work. Themes such as "Miracle of Grace," "Go and Tell," and "Saving Faith" challenged the University family this year.

ART GALLERY

Botticelli, Dolci, Honthorst, Rubens, Van Dyck, and other Old Masters depict significant religious events that inspire all who observe their canvasses. In the gallery, a chronological sequence from the fourteenth century to the nineteenth century shows a natural progression of cultures representing France, Spain, and Italy. The currrent collection of over four hundred paintings is regarded by authorities as the finest collection of religious art in the Western Hemisphere.

EXCELLENCE

But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.
He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

Turkey Bowl

New divisional formats created greater parity among the soccer teams this season; however, the two league champions were not unfamiliar with post-season competition. Six years ago, the Basilean Eagles and the Alpha Omega Lions faced each other in the Turkey Bowl. The stadium, fans, and intensity all seemed similar, but this year the outcome was different.

Omega's powerful offense and unyielding defense, which characterized their play throughout the season, dominated the Thanksgiving Day game. The Lions' four first-half scores were followed by Kent Elmer's goal, his second of the game, at the 19:41 mark of the second half, giving Alpha Omega its final victory margin of 5-0. In honor of leading his team to a second straight championship, a perfect season, and an unscored-against defense, team captain Todd Guthrie was presented the Most Valuable Player trophy.

1987 Basketball Champions Basilean

This season marked the advent of the college three-point line, which added a new dimension to college basketball. The 1987 basketball championship game, however, saw only five three-pointers scored. With a 8-0 record behind them, the Basilean Eagles swept into this year's title game to battle the 6-2 Lanier Falcons.

Steve Dickinson finished with 18 points for Lanier, but Basilean dominated this game as they had all their games throughout the season. Led by captain and MVP Mark Kraatz's pinpoint passing and expert ball handling, the Eagles held a half-time lead of 14 points and finished a perfect season with a final score of 94-68.

Kraatz (Captain), Brad Myles, Joe Hansen

1987 Basketball Champions Brontë

The Bronte Lambs and the Pi Theta Teddybears boosted themselves to the 1987 championship game with two distinct yet successful styles of play. Bronte's height enabled them to employ a dominant inside game; whereas, Pi Theta's advantage was their accurate outside shooting. As expected, the two team's strengths offset one another to make for a very well-matched and exciting game.

Pi Theta's pressure defense kept Bronte in check and allowed the Teddybears to go into halftime with a 24–23 lead. Bronte took charge in the second half, however, utilizing sophomore forward Kara Bergey in the lane most effectively. Pi Theta made two runs at the Lambs, closing their lead to 42–46 at the 6:00 mark and to 52–57 with 2:36 to play. Bronte's Joanne Talone ended the Teddybears' hopes of forcing a tie by driving to the basket and scoring. After being fouled with fifteen seconds left, she made two foul shots to seal Bronte's victory 61–55. For her play throughout the season and this championship, Kara Bergey was named Most Valuable Player.

1987 Speedball Champions Beta Chi Omega

The Beta Chi Bearcubs met their arch-rivals, the Chi Kappa Dragons, in the 1987 women's championship speedball game. Beta Chi jumped ahead during the cold October game, leading 4-0 at half-time.

Beta Chi's Joy St. John caught three of her team's four goals to lead all scorers while Kristen Johnson did all of the scoring for Chi Kappa. Late in the game, the Dragons' hopes for a comeback were dashed when Beta Chi's goalie, Tanya VanDyke, blocked a penalty kick. Beta Chi captured the championship by a convincing score of 8-4.

The Collegian

New to the student body this year was The Collegian, BJU's first school newspaper. The paper included informative articles covering campus events and places, sports standings, interviews with faculty and staff members, a fine arts calendar, and results of surveys on topics such as dating habits and the frequency of outside reading. The staff spent many hours writing, editing, and organizing to produce a quality publication that the University was proud to present.

Modern Language Club

Students experience the cultures and lifestyles of foreign countries as they attend French, German, and Spanish clubs. Features of the meetings include testimonies from international students, missionary slide presentations, and special music. Knowledge of foreign culture coupled with a strong missions emphasis enhances the students' desire to spread the Gospel to "the regions beyond."

University Home Economics Association

The University Home Economics Association, designed to aid students' development in the many aspects of home economics, took as its theme this year the attributes of the "king's daughter" from Psalm 45. Special speakers throughout the year discussed practical topics such as the coordination of weddings and receptions. In November, the association sponsored a trip to the Southern Living Christmas Craft Show in Charlotte, North Carolina. The highlight of the year was the annual Christmas Display, at which students demonstrated craft, sewing, and food projects.

Mission Prayer Band provides a year-round emphasis on missions through its daily prayer meetings for missionaries. Special speakers, films, and panel discussions, as well as the Missionary Emphasis Week, all help to increase the students' burden for world evangelization.

International Students' Fellowship

The International Students Fellowship provides encouragement for the 189 international students on campus. Students representing nearly forty countries such as Micronesia, Yugoslavia, and Benin meet to fellowship and share experiences as they adjust to the new culture. During Missionary Emphasis Week, the international students set up display boards in the student center to represent their home countries. A highlight of the year was the Christmas party, which featured singing, desserts from other countries, and foreign Christmas traditions.

ORGANIZATIONS

Inter-Society Council

The Inter-Society Council, made up of the presidents and vice-presidents of the fifty-two literary societies, coordinates exciting activities for the student body such as the annual Founder's Day, Thanksgiving, and Valentine banquets. In November, the members enjoyed the theme of Disney at the semi-annual ISC party. The many ISC activities gave members the opportunity to provide service and leadership.

First Semester—Wayne Helder, Parliamentarian; Ivey Watkins, Secretary; Michael Johnson, Secretary; Stefanie Greer President-Elect; Scot Shelburne, President-Elect; David Oloffo, President; Pamela Fager, Treasurer; Steven Rygh, Treasur Connie Kabakjian, President

SOCIETIES

Drums beating. Trumpets and trombones blaring. Students clapping and cheering. These are visible forms of society spirit—spirit resulting from numerous events and activities.

Outings, parties, and intramural sports events ranging from soccer and volleyball to water polo and track provide many opportunities for student participation. Societies raise funds and promote spirit by selling sweatshirts, banners, buttons, and pom-poms to their members and fans.

But society gives students more than social involvement. Every society promotes a bonding of its members together spiritually by offering extension and outreach ministries, weekly prayer meeting, and Sunday school. The students actively participate together by providing and receiving spiritual encouragement.

Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North, a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from weapons sales to Iran, won overnight publicity during his testimony in the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington last summer. Some Americans regarded his actions as criminal, but others considered them patriotic.

Washington, D. C., was not the only place to shake this year. An earthquake measuring 6.1 on the Richter scale shook Southern California on October 1, causing $5 million in damages. It was the strongest quake to hit the state since 1971.

The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco celebrated its 50th birthday on May 28. About 250,000 people jammed onto the bridge for an anniversary walk across the span.

"Black Monday," October 19, sent shock waves through the world financial community when the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed down more than five hundred points. Financial analysts attributed the largest single day drop in U.S. history to computer-programmed stock trading by brokerage houses, but leading economists blamed the "crash" on America's alarming economic conditions, particularly the growing budget deficit. In all, $500 billion of security values and investors' paper profits were wiped out.

Despite foreign rhetoric and Congressional opposition, the United States Navy began escorting American-flagged oil tankers in the Persian Gulf. The U.S. Navy's seizing of an Iranian vessel laying mines focused world attention on Iran's repeated denials of ship sabotage and increased the involvement of other world powers in that region.

World attention shifted to safer sailing waters when Dennis Conner recaptured the America's Cup "Down Under." Conner, who lost the cup in 1983, steered his Stars & Stripes to a 4–0 sweep over Australia's Kookaburra III.

President Reagan hosted Secretary-General Gorbachev on his first visit to the United States. The Washington summit meeting provided the setting for the two superpower leaders to sign the Intermediate Nuclear Forces Treaty. The landmark agreement calls for the joint reduction of American and Soviet nuclear arsenals.

Another landmark "agreement" combined the efforts of liberal special interest groups, heightened media coverage, and liberal-bent Senators to oppose President Reagan's nominee to the U.S. Supreme Court. With the votes tallying 58–42, Judge Robert Bork's confirmation was rejected despite his outstanding record as a Court of Appeals judge and law school professor.

ABOUT THE VINTAGE

Room 113 gets little notice from most students who pass through the Alumni Building. Some have mistaken the room for the "math help classroom" or the Discipline Committee Office; others know it as the room behind the door that swings open on them as they lean against the lobby wall.

For fourteen of us, however, Room 113 became almost a second home this year as we worked on the 1988 Vintage. Because of our desire to produce a book that would be an example of the 1988 theme of "Excellence," each of us spent hours—sometimes over forty per week—in that room.

The challenges we faced varied with our responsibilities. Some of us had to struggle to get good candid pictures of each society or sport; others had the frustrating job of trying to get every word of the copy just right; others had the problems involved with trying to get a group of students together for formal pictures.

Along with learning how to balance our classes, studies, work scholarship jobs, and Vintage work, we learned that nothing we do can be done without God's help. Without the strength that God gave us, not even one page of this book could have been printed. The story about the Vintage is not a story of human skill or strength, for those failed long before one layout was completed. This book is a testimony to God's power, and it is to Him that any credit for the 1988 Vintage can be given.
